The sheep Sheriff Fred F Miller said had been driven into one corner of a field on the Thompson farm that is bordered by a side road There the thieves built a runway connecting the field with

OHIO PRISONS CALLED SCHOOLS FOR CRIME

Sherrill Quotes National Experts as Saying It's Second Worst in Country

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS O Oct 3—The Ohio government survey using blunt language condemned Ohio's penal institutions today as schools of crime and quoted two national authorities as saying the Ohio penitentiary is with one possible exception the worst penitentiary in the United States

It called administration of the state's penal laws a disgrace to the commonwealth It charged the senate with short sighted economy in allowing bad health conditions overcrowding idleness and unskilled mass treatment of its 10 243 prisoners

10 Per Cent Feeble Minded

It asserted that at least 10 per cent of the adult penal population and also of the boys and girls in the industrial schools are feeble minded delinquents and that five per cent are psychopathic (emotionally insane)

It wrote the name of Merton Ward Goodrich upon the state's record Goodrich is serving a life sentence for the slaying of a young Detroit girl

An attempt was made said the survey report submitted by its chairman Col C O Sherrill to Gov Davey to hold him at the Lima state hospital for the criminal insane but as he was insane emotionally rather than in the legal sense his release was forced on habeas corpus proceedings only to enable him to commit his final and most notorious crime

Want Suitable Treatment

These emotionally insane or psychopathic criminals should be permanently confined in suitable institutions equipped especially for their care

"None such exists in Ohio at the present time"

It said "Ohio's penal laws are in many respects superior to those of other states, but tempered that with "but their administration can be regarded only as a disgrace to the commonwealth"

The authorities quoted for the statement on Ohio penitentiary were William B. Cox, executive secretary of the Osborne Association, Inc. of New York, and a federal

COUNTY FUNDS WORRY SOLONS

House Finance Committee Leader Says Many Will Lack Money Next Year

TACKLE 1936 TAX PROGRAM

Political Subdivisions Urged Not To Depend on State to Any Great Extent

By The Associated Press
A prediction that many counties will not have a dollar to operate on next year came today from Rep O I Ward Republican of Geauga county chairman of the house finance committee according to a Columbus report of The Associated Press

Ward and five other members of the committee including Rep Earl I Thomas of Marion county took up the problem of the legislature's 1936 tax program He said the group was convinced that local governments must build up their tax duplicates to avert a serious situation

He urged counties and cities not to depend too much on state subsidies existent or possible such as the revenues from the sales tax intangible tax or liquor license fees

Labeled Big Problem

Ward characterized local government financing as the big problem for next year

"Many of the counties will not have a dollar to operate on" he declared owing to debt requirements and mandatory levies for other purposes within the 10 mill limitation Many of the cities don't know how they are going to operate

The group, as yet unofficial considered recommending to local governments increasing the value

RELIEF SLASH EXPECTED HERE

Abel Asks County Commissioners To Take Over Responsibility.

CASH PAYROLL HELD UP

Board Advised as to Amount of Bonds They Would Be Permitted To Issue

Another drastic cut in funds for Marion county relief clients the last half of this month was indicated today following receipt of a telegram by John Abel county relief director from the state relief office instructing him not to mail cash relief payrolls before Oct 10

Meanwhile anticipating the shutting off entirely of direct relief funds for Marion county unemployables the first of November Mr Abel was making arrangements to meet with county commissioners this afternoon or Friday to discuss the issuance of poor relief bonds to take care of the direct relief load that will be shifted to the county and city

From the telegram he has received Mr Abel said it is evident that there will be another reduction in the relief funds for Marion county the last half of October The telegram sent by Paul Lazear finance director for the state relief organization reads as follows Impossible to advise you at this time amount of budget for last half of October Do not mail cash relief payrolls for last half before Oct 10

Changes Previous Practice

In the past Mr Abel said relief payrolls for the last half of the month are made up and sent in to headquarters in Columbus on the third of the month and the funds are received and distributed to relief clients on the sixteenth

In pointing to the gradual reductions that recently have been made in direct relief funds Mr Abel compared the amount received for the first half of October with the largest amount yet received for a single month last spring

Funds allocated to Marion county for relief payrolls for the first half of October totaled $22 215 a part of which must be used for administration expense One month last spring $79 500 was received here, the peak amount for any one month

Mr Abel said today he was quite sure direct relief for unemployables would be shut off in Marion county the first of November County and city are going to have to take over this relief load and I would suggest that they act immediately to prepare for the shift," Mr Abel said

After receiving the telegram from state headquarters this morning Mr Abel contacted the county commissioners' office and requested them to meet with him

ITALIANS BOMB TWO ETHIOPIAN TOWNS AS FOOT TROOPS CLASH

Aerial Attack on Addis Ababa Feared; Duce's Envoy Given Passport and Will Leave for Home Tomorrow.

By The Associated Press
PARIS, Oct 3—It was announced today that Premier Laval of France and Anthony Eden of Great Britain have agreed on League of Nations action for the immediate rupture of financial and economic relations with Italy

By The Associated Press
Official Ethiopian reports of an Italian bombing raid into Ethiopia today signalized, in the opinion of authorities of the League of Nations, the long feared beginning of war in east Africa. Casualties numbering 1,700 were reported

A British source characterized the alleged bombing as the "declaration of war—the only declaration there will be"

The news created fears that there would be a similar raid against Addis Ababa

Although Italy officially denied the bombing, it also announced that Italian troops had moved into "advanced positions beyond our lines"

Foot Troops Clash

Reports of fighting poured into Addis Ababa. The wild Danakhil tribes were said to have engaged the advancing Italians in Tigre province and the Italians were reported to be fleeing with their airplanes covering the retreat.

Luigi Vinci Gigliucci, the Italian minister to Ethiopia was handed his passports today and will leave tomorrow

There were reports of fighting in Ogaden province

Emperor Haile Selassie was quoted by Reuters as saying Red Cross nurses women and children had been killed and wounded at Aduwa

The Italian minister in Addis Ababa told The Associated Press that he knew nothing of the bombing and that furthermore he had received no instructions from Premier Mussolini as to what he was to do next

Duce's Sons Fighting

The Addis Ababa correspondent of the Newspaper Paris Soir reported that Premier Mussolini's sons Bruno and Vittorio were among the pilots of the alleged bombing squadron

Crowds milled in Downing Street London talking only of the war and speculating as to whether Great Britain would be drawn into it

Demonstrations were reported from widely scattered cities Fifty Italian conscripts were mobbed at Toulouse France The Italian consulate at Sao Paulo Brazil was stoned

Italy was expected to go before the council of the League of Nations with the stand that Italy was fighting a purely defensive battle against Ethiopia claiming her colonial boundaries were menaced by the tribesmen

Selassie's Forces Advance

Selassie threw thousands of men toward the Eritrean border from which Italian troops were advancing

The king of kings charged women and children were killed not only at Aduwa but at Adigrat

The league council was officially convoked for an emergency session Saturday morning The assembly it was said may also meet in extraordinary session Anthony Eden British minister for League of Nations affairs started for Geneva

He was instructed by the British cabinet to throw the whole weight of British influence behind league efforts to stop, or at least isolate the conflict

The French government, reported assured by Premier Mussolini's promise that war in east Africa would not mean a European war, was prepared to confer further with Great Britain as to what the two nations' joint attitude would be

Eden was to talk to Premier Laval of France on the subject. France was said to feel more

Italian Minister Ordered To Leave

(Copyright 1935, By The Associated Press)
ADDIS ABABA Oct 3—The Ethiopian government today told Luigi Vinci Gigliucci the Italian minister of Ethiopia to get out of the country a few hours after official government advices told of the bombing of Aduwa by Italian airplanes with civilian casualties

The Italian envoy was handed his passports and he will leave tomorrow

This action in international affairs usually is preliminary to the breaking of diplomatic relations between nations

An official communique said that a battle was under way against the Italians in Agame province—the area that lies between the Italian colony of Eritrea and Aduwa

Early in the day Emperor Haile Selassie proclaimed the general mobilization of his 10 000 000 subjects

When Vinci leaves the country he will go out on a special train guarded by the emperor's troops ... machine guns and rifles to prevent any possibility of reprisals by the Ethiopians—who appear to be enraged by the bomb raid news against the Italian diplomat

The three American mission hos-

Basis for Waging War Reviewed

By The Associated Press
The aggressive demands of Premier Mussolini and the adamant refusals of Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia are the basis of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute

Italy suffered a crushing defeat, not yet avenged at the hands of Ethiopians at Aduwa in 1896 when 8 000 Italians were killed and 3 000 captured

Il Duce early in 1934 said Italy's future lies in Africa which must be brought into civilization"

Border clashes between Ethiopians and Italians especially that at Walwal in December 1934 brought the situation into the world spotlight Each nation charged aggression by the other, and Ethiopia demanded that the League of Nations investigate A conciliation commission held neither was to blame.

Italy charged Ethiopia should be removed from the league, that the Ethiopian government was unfit to rule its diversified peoples, that its wandering tribes constantly menaced Italian colonies, and that Italy must control and "civilize" the country in self protection

The league found no solution acceptable to both

Stock Prices Sag and Wheat Soars to New Peaks as Leaders Vow To Avoid Hostilities.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—With the sensitivity of a seismograph recording tremors far away, America's economy already is reacting to the threatened war abroad

As the thud of marching feet overseas shook stock prices to lower levels yesterday and sent wheat values kiting in the Chicago pit, leaders here and elsewhere swiftly declared that America's mind is set on peace, and against foreign entanglements. Secretary Hull called on churchmen to conduct a "homing crusade" for peace.

RESETTLEMENT WORK WILL BE OUTLINED

Meetings To Be Held This Week in Marion and Morrow Counties.

Resettlement programs for Marion and Morrow counties will be outlined at meetings in Marion and Mt. Gilead this week, E. C. Sleeth, supervisor of the rural resettlement administration for the two counties, announced today.

Advisory committees have been named for each county, and the Marion county group will meet tonight at Mr. Sleeth's office at the Marion National bank building and the Morrow county group Friday night at the courthouse in Mt. Gilead. Names of advisory committee members will be announced when the appointees have given formal notice of consent to serve.

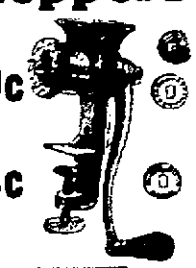

Mr. Sleeth said he plans to spend Mondays, Thursdays, Fridays, and also Saturday mornings, in the Marion office and other days of the week at the courthouse in Mt. Gilead.

It is the purpose of the resettlement administration, Mr. Sleeth said, to seek permanent rehabilitation of those eligible to borrow funds, making it possible for them to have an acceptable standard of living and at the same time permit them to repay their loans. Farm owners, tenants, share croppers and farm laborers, persons with farming experience who are or were recently on relief rolls, persons in default in payments to a federal land bank who have been denied credit by any agency of the farm credit administration and those who are unable to obtain financial assistance on equitable terms from any other agency are eligible for resettlement loans.

Miss Frances Osborn of Mt. Gilead has accepted a position in the resettlement office here. She will act as assistant to Mr. Sleeth.

C. I. Venatta, formerly in charge of the work in Morrow county, has been transferred to Wyandot county. Mrs. Margaret Richards, who was connected with the Morrow county office before the consolidation, has been transferred to the state office at Columbus.

Ohio Cities Prepare to Go to Polls

(Editor's Note: This is another of a series of stories on interesting election situations in Ohio cities.)

ZANESVILLE, O., Oct. 3—Although Mayor William P. Wetherald is not up for reelection this November, this stormy petrel of Zanesville politics will be in the midst of an anticipated bitter fight.

Control of the city council is at stake and the struggle is strictly among Republicans. Democratic leaders have advised party aspirants to keep out of the councilmanic race.

Mayor Wetherald, object of several unsuccessful ouster actions, heads one faction, Peter G. Black, banker, heads the other. Wetherald defeated Black's candidate for mayor in 1933. The Black faction had been in power 25 years.

Black seeks a comeback through election of three political dark horses to council. Neither W. P. Wiles, a wholesale grocer, Samuel Grant, a pottery and tile representative, nor George P. Kuhn, a grocer, has been identified with politics before.

Two other Black men, Edward Kenily and Harry Engle, seek the short councilmanic term.

Wetherald's opponents have instituted court proceedings against him, starting in the Muskingum county probate and common pleas court and ending in the state supreme court. He has defeated every move.

If his councilmanic candidates lose in November, his opponents plan to renew the ouster attempt.

PWA UNDER ATTACK IN SUPREME COURT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 — Activities of the public works administration are under attack in the supreme court in two important cases.

One challenges the right of PWA to make loans or donations to municipalities to construct electric plants and distribution systems. The Kansas supreme court upheld PWA.

In the other, the sixth circuit court of appeals ruled invalid the section of the national industrial recovery act providing for slum clearance and low-cost housing. The case grew out of the condemnation of land in Louisville, Ky.

Soon after the supreme court begins its fall term next Monday, it will announce whether it will review these controversies.

CCC ENLISTMENTS SET FOR NEXT WEEK

Approximately 20 To Be Admitted from Families in Marion County.

... of about 20 Marion ... will be enlisted in ... civilian conservation ... week as the delayed ... enrollment gets under ... state and nation. Age ... have been announced ... enrollment.

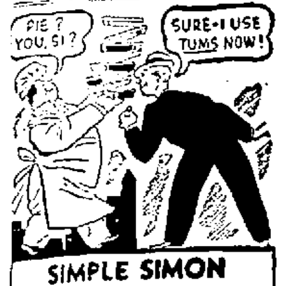

... of 10 men will be ... the acceptance station ... Monday, followed by ... of approximately ... Wednesday. Boyd Titsworth ... CCC selecting agent ... today.

... youths on relief ... take advantage of the ... to come in the conservation ... in the first enlistment under the sixth enrollment. Applications are now being taken by Mr. Titsworth at his office in the Marion county relief administration building on South Prospect street.

Where the youths will be assigned to camps, Mr. Titsworth could not definitely predict, although the last group, enlisted in September, were sent to camps in the Ninth army corps area comprising Pacific coast and western states. Previous quotas also were sent to the coast and to camps in the Fifth corps area comprising Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia, Indiana and a part of Tennessee.

The minimum age limit of CCC applicants has been lowered to 17, while the limit on the other end, 28, remains the same. Applicants must be from families on relief rolls, although unlike early enlistments two will be taken from the same family if they apply.

The enrollments at Mansfield will be under the supervision of Capt. Charles H. Brammell. Mr. Titsworth expects to fill both quotas within the next few days and also take a group of alternates to Mansfield. Applicants are to register with the selecting agent as soon as possible.

Millions have found that Tums quickly relieve acid indigestion. Munch 3 or 4 after meals or whenever smoking, hasty eating, last night's party, or some other cause brings on acid indigestion. The Stars Say--

For Friday, Oct. 4

AN ACTIVE and rather progressive day is read from the predominant planetary configurations, which, however, point to a paramount interest in private social, domestic or romantic affairs, or to those business connections in which a friendly spirit is dominant. Correspondence, writings or sudden news seems to accentuate this prospect of advancement.

Those whose birthday it is may find that their chief interest during the year will be centered in their private affairs—romantic, domestic or social—or in those business associations in which these elements are uppermost. It is a favorable time for seeking the friendship or co-operation of those in places of power and authority. This may best be accomplished by means of writings or correspondence.

A child born on this day may be fairly talented and ambitious and may win the support of those in big business through its intelligence, versatility and fine social graces.

Notable nativity: Rutherford B. Hayes, ex-president.

PRICES OF BREAD LIKELY TO GO UP

Head of Bakers' Group Cites Wheat Cost Increase.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 3—A prospect of higher bread prices confronted Ohio housewives today.

An increase is "bound to come," Frank Noyes, secretary of the Ohio Bakers' association said.

The cost of ingredients has been doubled during the last year, he explained, "and there has been only a one-cent increase in the price of bread."

The bakers must increase the price, he said, "to save themselves." Noyes said more than 50 bakeries in Ohio have closed in the last month for financial reasons, and unless there is a price increase, others will be unable to stand the pressure of increased costs.

Equipped with 10 lenses and 10 shutters, an aerial camera has been constructed that can be used from an airplane at a height of four miles above the earth.

REOPENING OF FUNERAL HOME TO BE SATURDAY

Event Arranged To Observe Remodeling and Eighth Anniversary Here.

W. C. BOYD

W. C. Boyd, head of the Boyd Funeral Home, Inc., will mark the eighth anniversary of his establishment of a funeral home in Marion Saturday, Sunday and Monday by opening to the public his newly remodeled establishment on the north side of Columbia street, just west of Main street.

The spacious home, remodeled and completely redecorated and furnished with the newest in funeral equipment, will be open for inspection throughout the formal opening. Favors will be given visitors.

The home has been undergoing changes since last November when Mr. Boyd moved the former funeral home building from the corner lot at Columbia and Main streets and joined it with his residence. Work on the 23-room building was completed Saturday.

Manufacturers of equipment used in connection with funerals will be present at the opening to explain their products which will include caskets, metal and concrete burial vaults, blankets and other funeral supplies.

Accommodations for 300

The entire exterior of the home has been covered with asbestos composition shingles of gray color. The 10 rooms that make up the main floor of the building are given over to the funeral home, and are capable of accomodating 300 persons. The rooms include a separate room for the immediate family, another for relatives and several others for friends.

Thirteen rooms upstairs are used as living quarters by Mr. and Mrs. Boyd and their family.

Floors have been newly carpeted, the walls covered with new paper and woodwork refinished. Venetian blinds are used throughout the building. Many pieces of new furniture have been added and virtually all equipment is new.

A four-stall addition has been built to the garage, increasing its capacity to six vehicles. The second floor of the garage building is used to display caskets, and in these display rooms will be kept from 40 to 55 caskets.

Two new vehicles have been added to the equipment. They are a Packard hearse and a new Henney Pullman-type ambulance, both of which incorporate new features of convenience. In the ambulance are thermos containers for hot and cold liquids, a first aid kit and seats for attendants.

Additional parking space at the home has been provided by construction of a flagstone strip between the front of the home and Columbia street, on which it faces, and by paving of an alley running along the west side of the home and paving of approaches to the garage. Vehicles may enter the garage either from Main street or Columbia street.

Two Porches Constructed

Porches run along the south side of both the funeral home rooms and the living quarters above. New porch furniture has been provided for both.

The new home, designed for convenience of the public, together with new equipment, enables the company to offer the most up-to-date service possible, Mr. Boyd said.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd are assisted in operation of the home by three men and a secretary.

Mr. Boyd, before coming to Marion eight years ago, operated a funeral home at LaRue.

DAYTON'S SCHOOL BONDS HELD ILLEGAL

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 3 — Attorney General John W. Bricker ruled today that a $195,000 bond issue of the Dayton city school district is illegal because the bonds are signed by Mrs. Edith McClure Patterson, as president of the board of education.

Mrs. Patterson is a member of the state liquor control board and Bricker had held that she vacated her school board position when she qualified as a member of the liquor board.

PLAN WATER PLANT AT UPPER SANDUSKY

Solicitor and Engineers Authorized To Draft Specifications for Project.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Oct. 3 — A special session of city council was held Monday night to consider legislation in connection with the proposed municipal water works project and the new city building addition. The city solicitor and engineers were authorized to prepare plans and specifications for the two projects for which appropriations have been received from the federal government. It was decided to retain H. P. Jones & Co. of Toledo as engineers in the proposed water works project and Earl B. Carter and A. K. Hall, attorneys, to assist City Collcitor F. J. Stalters. William Unger of Bucyrus was retained as architect for the proposed city building.

A resolution and ordinance passed some months ago in connection with condemnation proceedings against the Upper Sandusky Water Works Co. and others were repealed by resolution. Authorization was then granted the city solicitor to take all necessary steps to dismiss the condemnation proceedings against the water works company in a suit filed in common pleas court.

Resolutions were passed accepting loans and grants for both projects.

Flowers will be sold by the junior Girl Reserves under the direction of their advisors, Misses Mary Jo Stafford, Elma Sage and Una Ackley. Voluntary contributions received in the sale will be used to finance the distribution of a Braille magazine containing stories from many of the outstanding magazines and other Braille literature.

Among the sponsors are Rev. and Mrs. Franklin G. Markley, Mrs. George G. Kleinmaier, Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Wood, Mrs. E. O. Uncapher, Mrs. L. S. Irey, Rev. and Mrs. Howard L. Olewiler and Mrs. E. N. Hale.

The flowers are the handiwork of the blind.

HUDSON DISCUSSES 3-MILL SCHOOL LEVY

Superintendent Stresses Fact Tax Will Be Renewal, Not Increase.

The fact that the three-mill levy for schools which will be on the November ballot will not be an additional tax but a renewal of the present levy, and that without its passage the schools will be closed two and one-half months earlier was stressed by Supt. C. A. Hudson in a talk given Tuesday night to an over-capacity attendance of members of the George Washington Parent-Teacher association. Judge Hector S. Young, former clerk of the school board, corroborated Mr. Hudson's statements and said that from his own long experience as a board member he knows of no way to further reduce school operating costs.

Mrs. R. O. Bresler, program chairman, introduced the speakers. Dr. O. M. Young, president, was in charge of the meeting, which was the first of the school year. S. L. Anderson led community singing, with Mrs. Fred Sinning at the piano. Following devotionals by Rev. J. A. Carliley of the Forest Lawn Presbyterian church, Robert Swisher sang a group of selections, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. R. O. Bresler. Mrs. Francis Hurst was named to represent the association at a state meeting Oct. 8-10 in Akron. Mrs. Harry Wilhelm headed a committee in charge of a social hour.

The picture awarded for the largest attendance of parents was presented Miss Esther Westlake's room. The next meeting will be held Nov. 5.

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Backache

A BUSINESS man recently talked to his physician about the treatment of backache. He had been suffering from this complaint for several months. Remembering that his father had been subject to the same symptoms the man thought it might be lumbago. You can imagine his astonishment when told the suffering was due to kidney stones.

Why is it that so many persons diagnose their own pains and aches, as well as those of others? This is a grave mistake. Many victims of ailments curable in the early stages continue in their misery without getting expert advice.

Backache may arise from one of many causes. A complete physical examination by the physician is the only way of determining what is the real cause. Anyhow it is a warning sign that should be heeded.

Persistent backache sometimes follows a fall or blow. It may result from some abnormality, irritation or infection within the pelvis, the boney basin in the middle of the body. Often it is due to faulty posture, to constipation or rheumatism. At times it is the painful evidence of some internal disorder, such as kidney stones or it may indicate infection of the kidneys, liver, gall bladder, urinary bladder or prostate. In the female it may be a sign of something wrong with the womb or ovaries.

The word "lumbago" is an old term used to describe almost every pain located low down in the back. When accurately used it is applied to muscular rheumatism or inflammation of the muscles of the back. The pain comes on suddenly and every movement is painful because it produces severe muscle cramps.

Backache must not be confused with sciatica. In the latter affliction the sufferer complains of pain in the back, but it may travel down the back of the thigh into the leg. It is due to an inflammation or irritation of the sciatic nerve, the biggest nerve in the body. It is apt to be a chronic disease, in some cases lasting for several years.

Sacro-iliac strain, or ilio-sacral strain as some call it, is another common disorder which causes backache. It is due to a disturbance of the sacro-iliac joint which is the place in the lowest portion of the spine where it hitches up with the hip bones. This disturbance is a frequent complaint of persons who are overweight.

Bear in mind that many cases of backache can be traced to a center of infection somewhere in the body.

Esso Motor Oil combines all the good qualities of the best oils that have ever been developed for motor cars.

Ordinary motor oils have one of two disadvantages. Either they become thick and heavy at low temperature, or under heat they thin out and lose some of their lubricating quality and are consumed rapidly.

Esso is entirely different from all other oils. It is actually lighter at low temperatures and heavier at high temperatures than any other oil made. This exclusive quality means easier starting and greatly reduced oil consumption. And, because Esso holds its lubricating quality better, your motor gets better protection, wear is reduced and performance improved.

Esso Motor Oil is unquestionably the world's finest lubricant.

Happy Days.

The Roosevelt administration's theme song the next year will be that old favorite of the wishful thinkers "Happy Days." The President has sung a verse and one chorus already. Voters, apparently, like it.

Mr. Roosevelt's best chance of reelection lies in trying to identify himself with whatever improvement the public is aware of in general economic conditions. That explains the "Happy Days" theme. The purpose is to convince the public they (the happy days) are here again.

The fact is, much to the disgust of rabid Republicans, that the public doesn't need much convincing. Things are still below par, but they do look better. Instead of referring to the depression as one of the current facts of life, Americans now look back upon it by saying, "When the depression was at its worst—"

But that doesn't explain why it is taken for granted even by Democrats that the new deal no longer commands approval in some geographical areas and among certain classes of voters, because those areas and classes must be aware of improvement, also. What makes them turn sour looks on President Roosevelt for singing that happy days are here again?

The explanation is simple. The trouble is there are persons who doubt that the new deal is the cause for improvement. They remember the new dealers' warning that things would collapse after the supreme court paralyzed the administration's nerve center by calling the recovery act unconstitutional. But things didn't collapse. On the contrary, they have been improving rapidly. Apparently, the new deal, whatever it really is, has nothing to do with improvement, except as an impediment.

Therefore, it necessarily is the judgment of persons who don't take the Roosevelt administration's assorted panaceas seriously that the President, having understood the necessity for making the public believe the magic cures are working, is pointing to the sun and claiming he arranged for it to shine. It's a good trick, but some of the spectators, being a little cynical, prefer to think of it as a trick instead of as a miracle.

A Serious Matter.

Lynn, Mass. is on its civic ear over the refusal of an eight-year-old child to salute the American flag in a public school room. Here's a serious matter.

That dangerous agitator of eight long years should be given what he deserves. If he doesn't like this country, he should go where he belongs, wherever that is.

Apparently, the hardened young radical has been molded by his father and another elderly man, both of whom have been identified with "unpatriotic" activities before. It is difficult to admire their willingness to let a child fight their battle in the public school system.

The question is whether or not the commonwealth of Massachusetts intends to play into their hands by holding an eight-year-old boy responsible for ideas dumped into his tender mind by his elders. It is a chance for school officials to prove possession of good judgment, but strangely enough the odds are against it. Their idea seems to be that the child should be suspended.

In the meantime, the U. S. department of justice is said to be investigating a religious sect which made a hero of the child for his infantile challenge to the sovereignty of the nation. Why is it that when American patriots start to stamp out radicalism, they usually succeed only in imitating dervish dancers?

A Dam Apiece.

Out west, according to reports, a good many thoughtful persons feel that changing the name of Hoover dam to Boulder dam was a piece of snide business unworthy of even American politics. Some of them, it seems, are holding a grudge against the Roosevelt administration.

That's unfortunate. There should be enough dams to have one for every President. If that were done, no President or party could feel slighted. The whole thing would be done according to tradition, and misunderstandings never would occur. This is how it would work.

One of the first acts of each new incumbent would be the selection of a site for the dam which was going to remind posterity of his administration. The first dam started in each administration would bear the name of the President automatically. There would be no argument.

Thus, in the course of a century, the United States would have dams galore, each one a towering monument to the memory of an executive. The practice might well be started immediately, giving Boulder dam back to Mr. Hoover, taking Norris dam away from the Nebraska senator and calling it Roosevelt dam and thereby putting an end to confusion.

War Doesn't Pay.

There are innumerable points of interest in President Roosevelt's recent summation of the federal budget. Because there is more than ordinary interest these days in the possibilities of war, one particularly interesting part of the summation is that which contains figures proving the well known fact that war doesn't pay.

Though President Roosevelt called no attention to them, the figures are as follows. The United States plans to spend $700,000 for national defense this year, $710,000,000 for veterans' pensions and benefits and $745,000,000 for interest on the national debt, most of which was incurred as a result of warfare. The three items make a total of $2,155,000,000, which happens to be approximately 50 per cent of the estimated total revenues. In other words, 50 cents of every dollar collected by the federal government is used to pay for past wars and to prepare for future ones.

Fresh Start.

The auction of collateral held by a banking syndicate against a loan to the Van Sweringen brothers of Cleveland was an incident in a financial transaction so complex it probably never will be understood fully by the public. Outside financial quarters, however, it is sufficient to know that the Van Sweringen interests were able to purchase the collateral for less than one-tenth of its theoretical value, thereby retaining control of valuable railroad properties while marking off many millions of dollars' worth of indebtedness.

To the Van Sweringen brothers, the transaction meant a fresh start in an enterprise which has been vitally important to Cleveland and many other cities located on railroads under Van Sweringen control. To the country at large, the transaction means that a tremendous financial manipulation which was one of the symbols of pre-depression financial policy is being continued. There are new laws and new attitudes as a result of the financial collapse of 1932 and 1933, but there still are men who dream fondly of the old days.

Experts tell of the difficulties which await the men who apparently intend to rebuild a railroad empire that is threatened with financial disaster. Receivership, politics and disgruntled stockholders must be surmounted. The prospect seems frightening to the casual eyes of onlookers whose financial thinking is done in terms of thousands, instead of millions. Yet, they suspect the experts inadvertently have neglected to point out that there are some men who, more aggressive than the ordinary run of their companions, undertake vast operations with no more hesitation than others feel in conducting their own small affairs. Such men have been taking long chances throughout history, and they never seem to lose their gambling instinct. Praised when they win, cursed when they lose, they are responsible for many of the really great accomplishments which excite the admiration of the public.

Not Indispensable.

Argentina jobholders who decided it would be a good idea to keep news under control by collecting heavy hands from press bureaus and correspondents overlooked one important fact. They didn't realize that newspapers might find embarrassing ways to strike back.

Correspondents and press associations have decided to move out of Argentina. That doesn't mean they aren't interested in news from Argentina, but merely that they aren't interested in cooperating with a government clearly intent on persecuting them.

There are many ways of getting news, and all of them are better than taking handouts from propagandists. American newspaper readers are supplied with information about Germany, Russia, Italy, France and other governments these days in spite of government interference.

Argentina can make news gathering more difficult and expensive. It can throttle its own press. One thing it cannot do, however, is tie the tongues of its own people—and as long as tongues are free there will be news. There will be also, rumor, more harmful in the long run than the most damaging facts newspapermen could collect. But when governments begin to dream of the blessings of the authoritarian state they go a little blind.

Neighborhood History

TOWNSHIP PIONEER

The first white settled in Tymochtee township, Wyandot county, was Henry Lish, who with his wife and three children occupied the first dwelling, a log cabin 18x20 feet. The family arrived about 1816 or 1817.

Lish established in the earliest days of settlement a government ferry across the Tymochtee river. Ira Aikens and Joseph Chaffee opened the first taverns and Moses Kerr, another pioneer, followed the occupation of a gunsmith.

Robert Gibson arrived in the settlement with his parents in 1821 when two years of age. He grew up with the reputation of a Nimrod and on one occasion is said to have killed four deer, besides wildcats and turkeys. When 23 years of age he began herding cattle among the Indians.

New York Day by Day

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—Washington Square remains one of the untouched shrines of an older aristocracy—that is, architecturally. On the north side stand stone gate-posts with carved roosters and sheep heads. The little band stand for weekly concerts has the weather-stained look of antiquity.

The beginning of a "Rooms for Rent" invasion, however, has begun and many believe another five years will change it into a Boarding House Row. The home in front of which David Graham Phillips was slain by a madman is just as it was at the time of the tragedy.

Washington Square has a lost air, a vague something that speaks of better days, brighter hopes. Somehow the shouts of children at play are not so loud. The vegetable hawkers do not cry so noisily. The menier is tip-toe as though waiting to carry the corpse away.

I saw a sultry old hunting dog crated in front of an express office today. He had been up in the Maine woods and was on his way back to Texas. One ear was a three-piece bit of fringe, slit by the slashes of a bob-cat. A pencil-like welt ran from his chest up almost to one hip, another trophy of the fray. A card tacked to his container read: "This is Menlo, a fighting fool. He'll die for any man who treats him decent."

The mid-town bus terminals, which have slit arcades through jostling blocks, offer almost as much exciting giddyap as the big railroad terminals. More than 300 buses leave from one terminal alone and probably a total of 700 depart every 24 hours. Bus travelers are solid looking, the sort seeking comfort without frills. Callers are constantly yowling such far-away points as Miami, Los Angeles, Seattle and Montreal. I am told there is easy comradeship among the hunners and before getting beyond the city fringes all are generally conversing amiably.

But the truth is that when Bromfield was recording the goings and comings he was dreaming of greater things. When he finally quit he wrote what many consider his greatest book, "The Green Bay Tree." And he was just a gangling cub.

Glancing Backward

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, Oct. 3, 1925.

Buckeye Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, took a 90 day option on the Odd Fellows Temple at West Center and Orchard streets preparatory to purchasing it for $90,000.

Mayor M. L. Buckley and Fire Chief T. J. McFarland announced plans for having Marion participate in national fire prevention week beginning Monday. The local observance was to include a general property cleanup and inspection of all public buildings and business blocks under direction of the fire chief.

Will Rogers in his weekly letter discussing events and persons of prominence, declared Walter Johnson, who had been a star pitcher with the Washington baseball club many years, was one of the country's "smartest men." He based this appraisal on the fact that in going to Washington "he went to the ball park instead of the capitol." Rogers said, "He has seen more bush league congressmen and senators come and go than he ever saw ball players return to the minors."

Miss Lucile Foreman, Miss Amy Nash, James Williams and Albert Linscott of the high school journalism school were in Columbus attending the journalistic conference at O. S. U.

Mrs. Clifford H. Kling entertained with a five o'clock tea at her home on East Center street complimenting her sister, Mrs. George H. Van Fleet, who had recently returned from a tour of Europe, and Mrs. Ward H. Bones, who was to leave soon to spend the winter in Florida.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, Oct. 3, 1915.

Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. J. E. Arnolds of Columbus were visitors at the home of Senator and Mrs. L. E. Myers on South Seffner avenue.

Joseph Selter and family of Columbus were guests of Mr. Selter's brother, Dr. J. G. Selter, of Grand avenue.

Carl Ebert was elected president of the Tri-Township Sunday School association in its second annual meeting, held at Zion M. E. church.

Seventy-five friends and relatives of Mrs. Wesley Lehner gave her a birthday surprise party at her home eight miles southeast of Marion.

The football season opened here with the Marion Questions defeating the Mansfield Tigers 19-0 before a crowd of 400 at Lincoln park. O'Donnell made two touchdowns for Marion and Rathburger one.

Five hundred from Marion went to Springfield on an excursion train to attend dedication of the Knights of Pythias old people's home. Marion Company, Uniform Rank, with 63 uniformed men in line, took part in a street parade estimated to be four miles in length.

Behind The News In Washington And Wall Street

BY PAUL MALLON

PALO ALTO, Calif., Oct. 3—Mr. Hoover is not a candidate and will not be one. What he is, and will be in '36, is a political and economic leader, an influential one.

His friends say he has retired, but, of course, he has not. Even he may assume that he has retired, but it is physically impossible for a man of his temperament to do so. At least not in the sense that Calvin Coolidge sat down on his Northampton porch, ordered some good cigars and, with his feet on the rail, watched the world go past.

What has happened to Mr. Hoover is that he has become again the man he was as secretary of commerce, when, unworried and alert, he knew practically everything of importance that was going on, or likely to go on, in the world.

View

The ex-President's personal outlook cannot be known officially. Wisely, he gives no publishable interviews. But he talks freely with many friends, and they know that the view from his study window toward the world of politics is substantially this.

For 23 years, before he left the White House, he never had been out of a pressing administrative or executive job. He carried his troubles to bed with him and arose to face them again in the morning. Now, for the first time in his life, he has no troubles. He can go fishing whenever he wants to, and he can play.

The White House to him is a house haunted with troubles and man-killing responsibilities. No man of his position, in his right mind, would ever want to give up the enjoyment of life and return to them.

Vindication might be sweet, but life is sweeter.

Hobby

The secret of Mr. Hoover which the country does not understand is the type of playing he has chosen to enjoy. Before he entered the White House he had one hobby. He amused himself by trying to find out everything that was going on in economics, finance and business.

As secretary of commerce he was the best news source in Washington. He could tip you on what development was likely to occur next in Russia, in the coal strike, in Wall Street. He had many lines out everywhere, personal contacts extending beyond those of any other man in the country. His home and office were open forums for people who knew what was going on. When he entered the White House he changed all that. The responsibilities of immediate duties closed up the old avenues.

These have been reopened. Today Mr. Hoover is again one of the best informed men in the country. He knows what is going on nearly everywhere. And he has added politics to the subjects in which he is interested.

Rumors

There probably are more erroneous stories going around the country about Mr. Hoover than about President Roosevelt. The latest is that he has set up a gigantic political organization, secretly, and, when the right time comes, he will emerge as the next Republican standard bearer. Nothing could be sillier.

Anyone traveling across the country, talking with Republican and Democratic leaders, will fail to find any evidence of a Hoover political organization. There is none. Even Mr. Hoover's best friends are talking of other candidates. He has contacts, but not aggressive personal support.

Furthermore, Mr. Hoover is one of the worst politicians who ever sat in the White House. He never run for a public office, except the presidency. Essentially, politics is not his game.

Study

To get the background of the Palo Altoan you have to get a glimpse of his study. It has wide windows like a showcase, looking out over the Stanford campus and at the brown mountain ridge beyond, the peak of which is Mount Diablo (The Devil). There is a large stone fireplace into which Mr. Hoover casts cigar stubs. His desk is clean. No letters lie around from day to day. The incoming mail is large. Farmers and other people who do not know him, write of their experiences and troubles.

Prominent business men and politicians communicate with him also and always look him up when on the coast. They are served orange juice and a cigar. They find him looking 10 years younger than when he left the White House, warmer, more friendly, smiling, and, believe it or not, taking a humorous view of some situations.

None of these visitors, and, in fact, no living person here or elsewhere has been told what he intends to do in the next campaign. But if he has anything in his sleeve, it certainly does not rattle.

(Copyright, 1935, by Paul Mallon.)

BY JAMES McMULLIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—Chalk up move number three in the President's game to recapture industrial support. That's how New York interprets his announcement that the budget isn't nearly as badly off as previously reported and that no new taxes will be needed to keep the government machinery moving and take care of Uncle Sam's debt.

Perhaps the message carried conviction elsewhere—but New York right wingers received it with an impolite and unanimous horse laugh. They remark that in the first place the "assurance" was accompanied by two oversize hedges. There's to be no new taxation if processing taxes are not annulled by the courts and if further relief and recovery appropriations are not required. The first qualification is taken as a not too subtle attempt to induce cancellation of suits to prove processing taxes invalid. If that was Mr. Roosevelt's idea he is due for a disappointment. Plaintiffs in such cases are in no mood to sacrifice what they regard as certain legal victory—they are more confident than ever because of the implication that the administration wants to "buy them off"—for ephemeral benefits in other directions.

The second qualification is described by financial observers as bigger than Mount Everest. They can't visualize any substantial reduction in the government's relief burden. President Roosevelt infers that private reemployment should now take the load off Uncle Sam's shoulders—but that simply isn't in the cards. Well-posted sources say that Washington might as well figure on carrying at least seven or eight million "unemployables" indefinitely—or until some major readjustment not yet in sight is worked out. So the chances of escaping further relief appropriations are rated about on a par with those of flying to Mars. Of course conservatives would be delighted to see federal expenditures pruned to save taxes—but they are thoroughly from Missouri.

Smart

Reports from London that Mussolini is seeking a big loan are confirmed by New York bankers. What's more they predict that he will get it. Couple that credit with even a minor military success and Il Duce would have reason to pat himself on the back.

British authorities are understood to be receptive to the proposition (as forecast here recently.) Why wouldn't they be? Even if they put up the whole amount and never get a penny of it back it would be a darned sight cheaper than war. Mussolini would be required in return to tone down on the Roman Empire stuff—which would be a bargain for him. He would have to save his face on the side—but that could be easily arranged. And of course he could always play Caesar again later if he felt like it. The beauty of this solution is that it gets at the real root of the whole thing—the bad domestic financial situation in Italy from which Mussolini tried to distract popular attention by the Ethiopian adventure.

If the loan comes through England will put up most of the money—about 3 to 1. France will contribute on the short end. No American institution will participate directly though some may get in on it by the back door. Bear in mind that Il Duce's bellicose gestures will have made it possible. Otherwise he could have applied for credit till the cows came home without getting anywhere. Observers remark that he has learned to adapt strike suit technique to international relations. Not so dumb!

Financing

The treasury has again begun to use its smoothest and most inconspicuous system of raising additional funds. Last week it floated $50,000,000 in 90 day bills in addition to the $50,000,000 required to meet maturing securities of the same character.

There's never any argument about these bills. Hardly anybody knows they exist except the banks that take them. They are always rated desirable because of their extremely short maturity. If the treasury wishes it can raise half a billion dollars of new credit this way in a 10-week period as easily as eating ice cream.

New York insiders believe that is just what it is going to do. The extra money would be a comfortable cushion against contingencies and make it unnecessary to do any more bond or note financing for some time. Financial men approve because this method doesn't disturb the bond market.

Clumsy

If securities exchange commission chairman Jim Landis cherished any dreams that all would be sweetness and light between him and his holding company charges he is already disillusioned. The American State Public Service Corp. suit in Baltimore was the tip off on their tactics.

It's neat at that—this business of framing a suit on a constitutional issue in such a way as to freeze out the government. Collusion is a perfectly fair name for it—yet it's entirely legal. The point is that the corporate defendant hopes to lose—which simplifies matters for the plaintiff. Defense motions are hardly convincing—but there's nothing the real defendant—the government—can do except fume.

This ingenious strategy will spread to "test" cases on other disputed legislation. But some wise conservatives shake their heads and call it altogether too clever.

Landis and other new dealers are sore already—which will do the utilities no good if the law is eventually upheld. Moreover the dodge is so transparent it is rated bad public relations. The distinguished John W. Davis and the Edison Electric Institute are sharply criticized in some right wing quarters as both clumsy and premature in their handling of the Baltimore case.

Rather

New York was amused at William Hearst's castigation of conservative Democrats for not jumping to promote his Jeffersonian third party idea. They knew it was foredoomed to flop—but they didn't think the publisher would admit it so soon.

Insiders figure that Alfred Landon's chances for the GOP nomination are in bad shape now that Hearst has come out for him. Comment runs that Hearst may be a valued ally in the anti-new deal campaign—but the Republicans would rather indorse Roosevelt than let him tell them who their candidate should be.

Muzzles

GOP backstagers are quite upset because so many of their spokesmen have lately been infected by the talking virus. "Our cue is to keep quiet and let the Democrats pick each other apart. If we aren't careful we're going to talk ourselves out of all chances for a comeback. The national committee ought to invest in a large supply of muzzles for over-ambitious campaigners."

TODAY
Arthur Brisbane's News Review : :

THIS WAS THE LATEST Universal Service news "flash" when this column was "put to bed":

England offers France a military alliance "to safeguard her eastern frontier against all attacks." That means an alliance against Germany, if Germany should attack France.

In return, France must support the League of Nations in any "sanctions" taken against Italy, and must give England the use of Toulon as a naval base for the British fleet. England may imitate Mussolini and go too far to back out.

"Heavy casualties were reported." That means, for Italy and Ethiopia, that the war is on. England and the league have not yet called it a war.

But "Ethiopian tribesmen of the Danakil desert region hurled themselves ferociously against an Italian advance out of southern Eritrea" sounds convincing. Italian machine gun fire drives back the wild tribesmen again and again.

Thus far the fighting is confined to Italians and Ethiopians on the border fringe.

Will England go in and set fire to Europe once more and so soon, just as business was beginning to do nicely in England? Probably not, but prophecy is dangerous.

Not For Us This Time

London expresses the opinion that America really must take an interest in this way, even though it is not a member of the League of Nations.

Englishmen, if any, who understand conditions in this country will tell their brothers: "There is to be an election in the United States next year. This is no time to expect an American President to ship young Americans to be killed, and green American dollars to be spent, in somebody else's war."

Mr. Joseph E. Uihlein, an able citizen of Milwaukee, who takes information with him on his travels and is therefore able to bring information back, returns from England with the impression that, despite greatly improved conditions in Britain, English and other Europeans are expecting something unpleasant to happen. What it is, where it will start, what will cause it, nobody is prepared to say, but there is a feeling of apprehension, a vague anticipation of some catastrophic event.

How Would England Stop It

The Ethiopian war having started, unofficially, how will the League of Nations or England alone stop it? No definite "sanctions" have been announced by the league. England will read with sympathy that "deadly Italian machine gun fire" met badly armed Ethiopian warriors, that had been begging their emperor for permission "to kill Italians." But that, unfortunately, is part of war. England has stood behind those machine guns often enough in the Transvaal, in Zululand, in India and elsewhere to know about it.

Would she undertake to stop the miniature Ethiopian war by shooting at any Italian ship, regiment or airplane? Probably not.

No Need for Tight Lips

Dispatches from Washington describe our secretary of state, Mr. Hull, as "tight-lipped and nervous." You wonder what causes the tight lips. This is not Mr. Hull's war; it is a war in which the United States has no slightest responsibility, thank heaven.

When we had comic opera war with Spain, as Italy is now having her little war with Ethiopia, there was no "tight-lipped and nervous" official in England.

The extent to which England did not care what might happen to her dear cousins "across the big pond" would surprise you. Americans, especially those on the public payroll, should postpone the tight-lipped, nervous attitude until something is the matter with the United States.

Talk of war and machine gun "popping" scare our speculators, and all up and down the columns you see minus signs in stock quotations.

In Japan, they are busy selling goods to whoever will buy, enjoying a stock exchange boom, with prices up to 100 per cent and more.

When Mussolini fights Ethiopia, or vice versa, nobody in Japan becomes "tight-lipped and nervous."

While American stocks fell down, wheat went up the limit, which is 5 cents a bushel in one day. "New deal" cotton went up $2 a bale.

ALEX H. STEPHENS

Alexander H. Stephens, Georgia's "great commoner" in the pre-Civil war days, was a pathetic figure physically. From early youth to late years he remained in a condition of continual decrepitude so that in congress most of his speeches were delivered from his chair. He was unmarried. He opposed secession but approved slavery. He made a speech against the former at the Georgia convention but the state could not be held to the Union. Lincoln read the speech and congratulated Stephens. He also asked for a copy of the speech.

Stephens and S. S. Cox, congressman from Ohio, were close friends. Once during a session of congress, Stephens felt he was going to die. He sent for Cox and requested him to deliver his funeral eulogy. Stephens rallied, however, and did not die then. He lived to the age of 71 while Cox died when but 65.

AIR AND LAND WAR RAGES OVER AFRICA

confident in the face of the east African hostilities, by Reichs fuehrer Hitler's promise that Germany had no desire to engage in war.

In Paris, official sources predicted that if any "sanctions" were applied against Italy, they would be of an economic and financial rather than a military character.

President Roosevelt speaking yesterday at San Diego said that foreign war was a "potent danger" but that the United States would remain unentangled in such hostilities.

Several days ago it was indicated at Geneva that the tacit approval of the United States as well as of other powerful non members of the League of Nations would be asked before it was decided to apply any league punishment against a belligerent nation.

Expect Argument

The league expected Italy to submit a comprehensive argument for self defense—but it foresaw that Aloisi would as heretofore refuse to sit at the same council table with the Ethiopian representative.

A Mussolini communique had already "made it known however that Italy would not leave the league until the league clearly took on itself the responsibility for measures which strike at Italy.

The telegram from the government of Haile Selassie reporting continuance of a battle in Ethiopia, said:

These facts occurring in Ethiopian territory constitute a violation of the empire's frontier and a breach of the covenant by Italian aggression.

Point to Mobilization

The Italian note to the league declared that the general mobilization proclaimed today by Emperor Haile Selassie constitutes an immediate direct menace for Italian troops.

In consequence of the order of general mobilization it read this aggression has taken on a volume of importance which is much more considerable which manifestly involves more serious immediate danger against which it is necessary to react without delay because of elementary reasons of security.

In the presence of this situation the Italian government has found itself compelled to authorize the supreme command in Eritrea to take necessary steps in defense.

Officers of the Italian bombing squadron Desperate who yesterday flew along the frontier between Eritrea and Ethiopia reported today that heavily reinforced Ethiopian outposts were encamped within two miles of the border.

Aduwa Scene of Italian Defeat

By The Associated Press

Aduwa which Emperor Haile Selassie charged Italians bombarded from the air today was the scene of the crushing Italian defeat of March 1 1896. It is 35 miles from the vaguely defined border of Eritrea and 110 miles inland from Massaua the Italian coastal base.

The city is in the province of Tigre. Its elevation is nearly 6,500 feet and it has a population of about 3,000. It has been the chief post of trade between the interior of Tigre and the coast.

Adigrat another city which the emperor charged was bombed is the capital of the district of Agame in Tigre. It consists of about 50 huts and is situated where the principal ridge of the Abyssinian plateau begins its descent toward the coast.

As the temperature began rising with the vessel plowing toward the south some of them put on their woolen stomach bands designed to assist in the prevention of dysentery.

Most all of them also donned pith helmets for protection against the sun's rays.

Among the officers aboard the Saturnia was Capt Gianni Sacchietti of the 16th native Eritrean battalion who once lived in New York City.

Also aboard was Emanuel Bourcier, sent by the French government as a field wireless instructor at Camp Grant Rockford, Ill., in America's war days. He is now correspondent for the Paris newspaper Intransigeant, about to see ...

Be sure your recipe is a good one have your measurements accurate have good equipment and it is safe sailing so far as mastering the art of cooking is concerned Mrs Thurn told her audience.

She discussed the making of pie crust and gave as a good recipe the use of 1 3 as much shortening as flour cut into large flakey pieces and add water as though you were paying a dollar a drop for it. Always bake pie in a quick oven for the first 10 minutes she warned and for custard or cream fillings bake slowly for the remainder of the time. She suggested sifting flour on paper plates instead of tin.

She gave a simple recipe for peach butter which consisted of eight pounds of peaches five pounds of sugar a cup of vinegar cook up like butter. A quick way to peel peaches is to place a table spoon of lye in hot water dip the peaches into it then plunge them into cold water. The skins peel right off she declared.

Going from cooking to washing she suggested putting the clothes to soak over night by way of making an easy task of it and warned the new housewife to be sure and place the articles showing the most soil on the bottom of the tub.

The roast leg of lamb with vegetables which topped the menu list looked most appetizing and she suggested as a perfect salad an unusual combination containing cherries horseradish hot water etc.

She described her yellow cake as a delightful birthday cake and the cheese puffs was her suggestion for an informal luncheon with salad and coffee to complete the menu.

Mrs Thurn conducted a question hour and the models presented home and street costumes.

Hamloaf fritters pie and cookies are among the recipes scheduled for today. The cooking school will close Friday.

Selassie Tells League

The king of kings, whose general mobilization order set his native followers on the march to the front, protested to the League of Nations alleging a violation by Italy of Ethiopia's frontiers and a rupture of the league covenant.

Rasse Youm governor of East Tigre province bordering on Italy's colony of Eritrea where nearly a quarter of a million Italian troops have been massed conveyed the first news of the bombardment to the emperor and reported that the results of the still raging battle were unknown.

While historic Aduwa Ethiopia's "Verdun" slept in the morning hours of today Mussolini's airplanes bombarded the city the government announcement said as a prelude to what might prove one of the most bloody wars in the history of the dark continent of Africa.

Women Children Killed

Word that numbers of women and children non-combattants were killed and injured horrified the king of kings who dispatched his protest to the league immediately.

The conquering lion of Judah was reported to have sent four regiments of 50,000 soldiers to Aussa to meet an eventual Italian attack near Mussa Ali where the Ethiopian government said it had established that Italian troops already had penetrated.

The emperor's proclamation was read from the balcony of his palace by the chancellor Haile Wolde... oufe after an emergency session of his crown council.

Over the primitive communications systems of all Ethiopia—by drums couriers and town criers—the word spread uniting Christians Mohammedans pagans and Jews in a call to the colors to defend the independence of Ethiopia against Italy.

Out To Save Fatherland

People of the most remote villages of the kingdom ranging from Paran Negroes of Wallega province who eat alligators to the wild tribes of Wallamo province who devour hippopotami were shaken out of their lethargic existence into a frenzy of patriotism.

Mortal enemies embittered by long unsettled family and personal feuds buried the hatchet in their common desire to save the fatherland.

Native bards playing biblical harps and chanting the psalms of David aroused patriots to the highest pitch of martial ardor with their plaintive music.

As women heard the cry they broke into militant song pounded drums and fired their men with the spirit of sacrifice and bravery.

It was a solemn day for all Grey bearded bent heroes of Aduwa now too old to go back to the wars gave their magic amulets to sons and grandsons. They believe these talismen make them invulnerable to Italian gunfire.

Witches Give Out Herbs

Aged witches with more faith in sorcery than nature gave their kinsmen secret herbal medicines to heal wounds.

Thousands of sheep were being slaughtered and their blood blessed by priests as sacrifice for victory.

Pagan tribes flocked to sacred trees for inspirational communion with the spirits.

Women of all degrees placed their babies in the care of elders and prepared food and goat's tallow for the march. Their menfolk packed buffalo skin blankets which also serve as beds.

Here in the capital the mayor and his army proceeded to the streets to insure order and security. Tribal chiefs with lion manes and riding courageously caparisoned mules and horses made up a memorable spiritual pageant to the palace.

To inspire youths to deeds of valor old men recounted martial glories in Ethiopia's past. They described countless invaders repulsed from the time of the ancient Egyptians to the Romans and Mohammedans.

'Death to Italians'

On every side was heard such expressions as Menelik has arisen God Israel is with us our patron saint George who gave us victory at Aduwa will come again to save us—death to Italians.

Fanatical priests fired by the belief this is a holy war inspired their flocks to go forward to battle under the banner of Christ and Selassie.

Down with your ploughs! Up with your spears!

Forsake your shuttles for your swords.

The God of hosts is with us. Follow us behind the cross which brings victory and peace.

The great circular forest of Eucalyptus was an amphitheater with a black sea of humanity surging excitedly. The scene resembled a gigantic rodeo. Women with straw mushroom like parasols and boys carrying rifles twice their own size massed below the palace.

Selassie's lions roared restively when the mobilization drums thundered out.

The emperor signed the order with a gold pen and then resumed his throne in the palace.

STILLMAN REQUESTS MORE WPA ACTIVITY

Says Only 30,000 Employed, Asks 16 Directors To "Buck the Line"

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O Oct 3—C C Stillman disclosed today that only a little more than 30,000 men are employed on works progress administration projects and urged the 16 WPA directors to buck the line.

Simultaneously he announced receipt from Washington of a prediction that the majority of the program submitted will go ahead.

In a letter to Stillman WPA chief for Ohio W M Cotton director of the project control division of the WPA said:

I think you will find there will be comparatively little delay and no real objection to the inclusion of practically all of your projects on the program.

Stillman told the district directors to disregard whether or not the fact that only 30,000 are employed on Ohio WPA projects "is our fault."

Indications of the effect of the WPA program coupled with a seasonal rise in business activity came in an announcement from Washington that the number of Ohio families on relief decreased 11 per cent to 239,533 in August from July figures.

The announcement said the state incurred $8,318,7.0 in obligations for direct relief in August a 17½ per cent decrease from July.

this afternoon to discuss the issuance of poor relief bonds to provide funds to assume the relief load.

Whether the commissioners would be able to get together with Mr Abel this afternoon was problematical J O Weiss, chairman of the board said at noon today. One of the commissioners is not in the city today and it was doubtful if he could be reached Mr Weiss said.

Amount Issuable

Simultaneous with the efforts of the county relief director to arrange a meeting with the county board a letter was received at the commissioners office from the state tax commission headquarters notifying them that the county has a right to issue poor relief bonds to the amount of $67,700 under section two of house bill No. 501. Two blanks to be used by the commissioners in making application for authority to issue bonds were enclosed in the letter. The bonds would be retired from the public utility excise tax according to the letter.

Commissioners could not say today whether the issuance of poor relief bonds would require a vote of the people.

The county already has issued $118,000 in poor relief bonds. The last two years while the county was cooperating with the state and federal government in paying relief costs.

The first step to do away with all direct relief was taken by the federal government this month in closing all transient bureaus in the United states. County Faces Prospect of Cut

Marion county faces prospects of being required to operate next year on $66,500 less than it had last year County Auditor Harry V Mounts said today in commenting on the statements of Rep. Ward regarding the acute financial problems Ohio counties will face in 1936.

On the basis of laws passed by the legislature the county reasonably can expect to get about 1.37 mills for operating purposes next year or around $80,830 from general taxation next year. This he said is $66,500 less than was levied for county operating purposes for this year.

The city he said probably will not be hit so hard by the new legislation having a possible levy of 2.38 mills in sight as compared with 2.84 levied this year for operating purposes.

Although Marion city and county apparently are not as severely affected by the new laws as many others in Ohio any loss of revenue may have serious effects the auditor said. He pointed out that most of the operating expenses of both the city and the county are fixed charges or expenditures the city is compelled by law to make from year to year.

U. S. AGAIN BEST WINE CUSTOMER

By International News Service

BORDEAUX—The United States was this French region's best bottled wine customer during July, statistics just issued by the local authorities show. Thus the U S has regained its old position among wine customers.

With 24,000 liters or nearly 26,000 bottles, the United States led even Belgium and Great Britain in the import of Bordeaux wine in bottles.

Besides 10,000 liters of fine bottled wine, Great Britain imported 145,800 liters of Bordeaux in barrels. This has been done ever since the days of the Black Prince when this part of France belonged to England.

Only One Left of Sisters Who Would Not Wed

By The Associated Press

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill Oct 3 Death has claimed two more of the Pinkstaff sisters and focused attention on the single survivor of four women who kept until death a 60-year-old covenant that they would not marry. The survivor Mary Ann Pinkstaff 79 is ill with pneumonia which recently took the lives of Clara Ann 76 and Susie Ann 66. Martha Ann died 40 years ago.

For the last quarter century Mary Ann Clara Ann and Susie Ann operated their 150-acre farm on the bank of the Wabash river. The farm had belonged to their father and before that to his sire. No outside help was employed. Grueling outdoor farm labor indirectly led to the recent deaths and illness.

Work in a hay field on a hot September day brought on exhaustion. Heavy colds followed, pneumonia quickly developed.

The no-marriage pledge was not taken through dearth of suitors. There were many. Susie Ann kept company with the same man for years, but refused to break the vow.

In recent years the sisters clung to the garb of the nineties. High top shoes long flowing skirts often of solid black but occasionally of flowered gingham or calico stiff starched bonnets were their attire.

ment he said. It is easy to accept thankfully what comes but it also would do well to consider the eventual repercussions.

His remarks came at the close of a day which besides the reactions on stock and grain exchanges, brought government reports showing near record shipments of American cotton linters (potential materials for explosives) scrap iron and steel trucks and tractors to Italy.

Roosevelt Vows To Keep Peace

By The Associated Press

SAN DIEGO Calif Oct 3 — President Roosevelt was bound for the fishing grounds of the Pacific today aboard the heavy cruiser Houston one of the nation's mightiest warships.

Returning to Washington after his transcontinental tour Mr Roosevelt was looking forward to engaging in his favorite sport while cruising toward the Panama canal.

The cruiser and its convoy turned southward late yesterday after the President had watched 130 ships of the fleet engage in a battle exercise in which the Houston was designated as an enemy ship.

This demonstration of naval power the most spectacular ever witnessed by a chief executive of the nation followed Mr Roosevelt's speech in which he declared:

We not only earnestly desire peace but we are moved by a stern determination to avoid those perils that will endanger our peace with the world."

Despite what happens in other nations, the President said the United States of America shall and must remain unentangled and free.

This nation he said intends and expects to remain at peace with the world."

Can Now Eat Hearty Meal Without Stomach Distress

Local lady suffered from gastritis, cramps, headaches and nervousness. Has gained four pounds and feels 100% better.

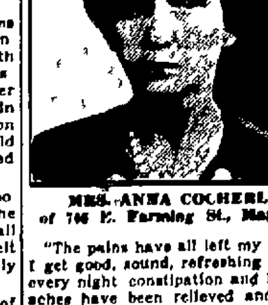

Mrs Anna Cocherl who resides at 746 East Farming St. Marion gave the following statement with permission to publish it. She says:

I suffered from indigestion after every meal. Gas would form in such quantities that it brought on severe cramps my heart would flutter and I was often bothered with shortness of breath.

"My kidneys were weak too which called me up during the night. It seemed I had pains all over my body and at times I felt so tired and wornout I could hardly do my housework.

"I kept reading in the paper of the good reports local people gave Vendol, so decided to try it myself and I'm certainly glad I bought that first bottle. I feel better in every way.

"I have gained in both weight and strength. I can now enjoy a good, hearty meal without later suffering from an upset stomach, gas or cramps."

MRS. ANNA COCHERL of 746 E. Farming St., Marion

"The pains have all left my body. I get good, sound, refreshing sleep every night constipation and headaches have been relieved and my general system has been thoroughly cleansed of the poisons which were pulling me down and making me feel weak and worn-out.

"Vendol really does all it is claimed to do and it has my sincere recommendation."

Vendol is sold by Sam's Pharmacy, Hennesy & Cooper and all other leading druggists everywhere.

MORNING STAR
— BY MARIAN SIMS —

CHAPTER FORTY THREE Big News.

JUDITH burst precipitately into Emily's room at seven o'clock on a February morning. Her hair was on end and her dressing gown waved behind her.

"I can't stand it any longer or I'll explode like a steam boiler."

Emily blinked and sat up in sudden alarm. She was accustomed to Judith's effervescence but this was different this was Vesuvius in eruption. She thought wildly of Frances and Jeffrey then of Aubrey and Davey.

"Judith is it—?"

Judith made a flying leap and landed in the middle of the great walnut bed.

"I was going to keep it for a surprise but the pressure's gotten too dangerous. David's coming home!"

David. She sat very still for a moment, then she forced herself to whisper.

"When?"

"This afternoon. The wire just came. He's landing this morning and flying to Montgomery." She flung her arms wide. "Isn't it the swellest thing you ever heard of."

In spite of the turmoil of her thoughts Emily laughed. "It's the grandest thing I ever heard of, Jude darling. I'm as thrilled for you as you are for yourself."

Judith sat up. "How about being a little thrilled on your own account?"

"Because I don't figure in it." She eyed Judith in sudden terror. "Did you tell him I was here?"

Judith shook her head. "That was another of my surprises."

She sighed with relief. "Thank heaven for that!"

"Why?"

"Because I'm going home."

Judith stared at her in consternation. "You're doing nothing of the sort! Why do you think all this was engineered?"

But don't you see," she spread her hands in a hopeless little gesture, "that being here now would be nothing on earth but throwing myself at him."

It wouldn't, Judith's voice was rough with conviction. "David knows you too well, even now ever to think that. And if you think that David would marry anybody on earth from a sense of duty you're all wet. He's too much of a Carroll for that they don't know the meaning of the word. Now will you stay here and take your chances or will you run like a scared rabbit?"

Emily's eyes were on the cover'let. "I'll stay."

Judith flung both arms about her neck. "I knew you would! Now hurry and get dressed we've got things to do."

* * *

Mercifully the plane was on time or Judith would have demoralized the entire airport. She made nothing on earth but throwing herself at him.

David took her hands and smiled pushed past a uniformed official who was snatched by a greasy mechanic from a horrible death in the propeller and flung herself upon the first male passenger who descended knowing instinctively that David would be the first man to alight.

In the car David found the ignition light and switched it on. "I want a good look at you," he explained as the car moved away.

They were holding hands unashamedly now still smiling a little tremulously at each other. Judith said tragically:

"You look like—Zeus or somebody but I'm sure I've aged terribly!"

"Terribly." David agreed gravely, and they both burst out laughing.

She looked about the car for something to hurt and David said persuasively, "Not on my first day at home please. Sit back and tell me about Aubrey and my nephew."

She leaned back and he put an arm about her shoulders. For half an hour she talked steadily.

Aubrey and Davey who had watched for the headlights as they turned in the driveway were waiting on the steps. Emily Judith observed, was not visible. The two men gripped hands smilingly and almost wordlessly and Judith caught up her son.

They went inside the house and David stopped for a moment in the hall, in his eyes the expression of a pilgrim returning to a well remembered shrine. He had known Morton Hall well in the past.

"Oh Jude" he turned swiftly to her and his voice broke a little. "If you knew what it means to be back!"

His eyes swept the livingroom with the same hungry glance as if he had only this moment to imprint its appearance upon his memory forever then he smiled at her.

"Quite the chatelaine aren't you."

"Quite." Her ears attuned to the floor above had heard Emily leave her room and begin to descend the stairs.

From his position near the archway David saw her first and recognized her instantly. He whirled on Judith his voice a shaken angry whisper.

"If this is your idea of a joke it's damned poor taste!"

Judith's heart was singing. She whispered back. "It's not a joke you idiot! Do you think she'd be here if everything weren't all right?"

There was no time for more. Emily was coming in and David had crossed the room to meet her. David took her hands and smiled down at her. "If this isn't a perfect climax to a perfect homecoming." But his voice Judith noted was gay and not shaken was friendly without being intimate. She held her breath praying that Emily wouldn't betray herself.

Emily did not. Her smile was as gay as David's and her voice as carefully controlled. "I thought I was beyond being surprised by the Carrolls but I'm not. David it's wonderful to see you."

"If I tried to say how good it is to see you I'd be guilty of understatement."

She laughed quietly and crossed the room to the others. To cover the pause Judith said quickly:

"Why can't we have our cocktails now? Then Dr. H can go up and array himself afterwards if he chooses."

David grinned. "I think I can bear it." He handed a glass to Emily and as Judith re-entered the room another to her. Then he lifted his own as Judith had done six weeks before.

"For Auld Lang Syne." Over the rim of his glass his eyes sought Emily's for a second then passed quickly on to the others.

And the years ahead Judith said quickly.

They drank almost solemnly and started as a crash shattered the stillness. Judith had flung her glass against the hearth.

David startled and unnerved laughed roughly. "The same old Bernhardt!" he teased her.

"I'm not" she defended herself hotly. "But that's the sort of toast that requires a broken glass."

Emily tomorrow blushes before breakfast.

The Marry-Go-Round

WHY WOMEN TALK TO THEMSELVES

There are times when every man seems to have what is popularly known as a "thin ear"—especially every married man.

In fact a man's auditory nerve is almost as miraculous as his memory which can be turned off or on at will like a radio.

Any woman will tell you that while a man can hear an almost imperceptible knock in the car he goes suddenly deaf when his wife begins talking about the wonderful bull bargains or the lovely living room rug's on sale for less than nothing.

Before marriage a man can listen forever to a girl's latest voice while she croons the latest love songs or murmurs sweet nothings but after marriage the same voice can not penetrate to his tympanum if he happens to be reading the sports page.

He can hear his stenographer perfectly when she reminds him of his date to play golf but her reminder that he has an appointment with the dentist always seems to fall on his deaf side.

He can hear the announcement that dinner is served and respond to it joyously, if he's hungry but if he's busy washing the car or practicing a new putt on the lawn, his good ear goes on the blink again.

He can catch the faintest word when a pal mumbles in his ear. "Let's go out and have a quick one!" But the wifely admonition "Don't take another. You've had enough!" even when emphasized by a kick under the table never seems to reach his ear drum.

A popular screen star has just divorced her husband on several complaints, the most serious one being that he would go for weeks without answering her questions. He probably didn't hear them. Every girl should put a megaphone in her hope chest! There is no use speaking sotto voice to a man, after you've married him. What you say may penetrate his auricle but it never gets through to his brain.

The average man waits for a woman to stop talking just as he would wait for a truck to rumble by. When the noise stops he calmly resumes his newspaper. And he hasn't heard a word. His train of thought has run right on without even being flagged. Most of the time when a married woman thinks she is carrying on a conversation she is just talking to herself!

No man wants to hear when it's time to get up or that he needs a hair cut or that his hat is getting disreputable and he ought to buy a new one or that he made a fool of himself over that woman at the party or what your mother thinks about him or—a lot of bitter truths. And what a man doesn't want to hear he simply doesn't hear.

No wonder a man manages to keep so cheerful healthy and young! He has the most accommodating, trick action hearing in the world—a good tin ear.

County Auditor's Job Goes to the Dogs in Canton

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct 3—Stark county s dog (or dog owner) situation has got County Auditor Lester Lash into $10,000 worth of trouble.

Here s the story as told by State Examiner M L Campbell in a report filed today with the state bureau of accounting:

The law specifies that when a dog owner fails to obtain a license for his canine before Jan 20 of each year, he shall be penalized $1 and that it is the duty of the county auditor to collect the penalty when the license is purchased

For some unstated reason, Campbell reported Lash had failed to collect the penalty against delinquent dog license purchasers for more than three and a half years during which the delinquencies increased to $10,025.

The report holds that Lash must now pay these penalties himself into the dog and kennel fund

"I think I would better tell you now as much as I know about this ' I said with an expressive gesture toward Roderick s unconscious back Then we need not speak of it again It is a subject much better dropped don't you think?

If it be sufficiently remembered Katherine qualified

I am sure it will be I said significantly and then in as few words as possible I told her of Roderick s secreting the keys of his exculpation of Junior of anything save knowing about the keys, and of the rule I had laid down that their credo of no snitching' was never again o apply to escapades involvi g danger to life ani mals or property

Praise for Madge

I suppose Williams told you how we overtook the car I said

Yes indeed she rejoined You should have heard him You are to automobile drivers what Lindbergh and Earhart are to aviators while as for Junior he could not say enough about his coolness and resourcefulness

She was again looking at Roderick s back and I knew that she was in the boy s own parlance rubbing it in Roderick s shoulders wriggled again and I knew that he was listening to every word

What is the equivalent of bread and water and thirty lashes going to be" she asked next.

I don t know yet I said 'When we get to the hotel tonight, you and Mary and I will go into conference—

"Mary would call it 'going into a huddle ' she commented, smiling and I gave her an assenting nod

"Then we can go over the situation and decide what is best to be done I went on "I already have told Roderick that, for the rest of the journey he is not to speak to Junior to the baby or to the dog, and is not to answer any look or call of theirs

Thinks Plan Wise

She pursed her lips to a noiseless whistle

'My word!" she said "Coventry, no less! Well! I think you re wise, although it will be a distinct punishment also for the other three of the quartet."

I know it I said soberly 'but —"

'Take refuge in the trite" she adjured "No omelet without breaking eggs, and all the rest of it. But here is Williams coming back. Now I suppose we shall find out when we are to get started '

Williams drew the car to the side of the road opposite to us and getting out, crossed the road to us

As far as I can judge she s all right " he said Consciously or by accident your boy must have jostled that gear shift into neutral when he turned off the switch But the next good garage we pass—not one of these filling stations but a place big enough to employ a good mechanic—I d like to have it looked over "

Of course ' I told him

'Then if you ladies are ready, we can start on at once, he said.

"I'll just run this car back behind Mrs Vertizen s and then we ll all be in the same relative positions as we were when we left the farmhouse I suppose you want me to keep on being rear guard as it were

Indeed I do I said heartily I feel so safe when you are behind us watching over the caravan '

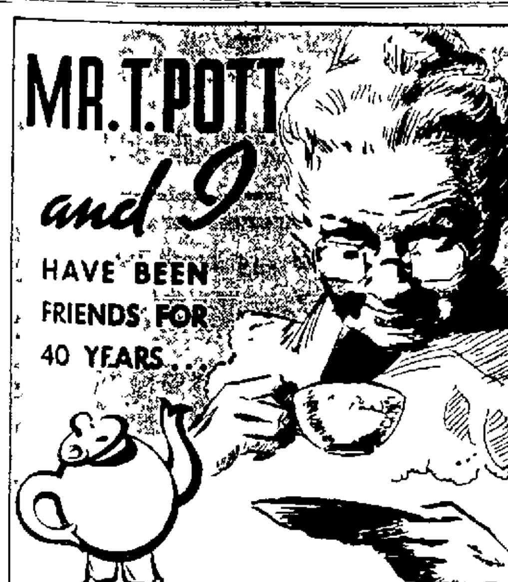

Thank you he said with a grave smile and then he went back to the other car while I opened the door of mine

Come Roderick I said I ll take you back to Mary now and bring Junior back here

He said nothing before Katherine only climbed down obediently But when we had left the car behind he drew close to me

Is it part of the punishment he asked huskily that I can t sit with you any part of the time going up to New Hampshire?"

One of a series of Associated Press sketches telling about the men who occupy the governors chairs in the various states.

RUBY LAFFOON

The Governor of Kentucky

Witty cheerful humorous and aggressive Gov Ruby Laffoon of Kentucky probably will go down in history as one of the bluegrass states most prominent governors when he leaves office at the end of this year The governor enjoys a good joke He gets a kick out of newspaper caricatures of himself Laffon is equally at home in preaching a memorial sermon or lambasting a political foe from the stump He can quote the Bible when the occasion calls for it and if need be can speak with the emphasis of a sailor Scattering Kentucky colonelcies all over the nation Laffoon has more than 8 000 men women and children on his staff He is tall muscular bald and lame in one leg He is 66 years old married and has three children

During his administration Laffoon probably has figured in more political squabbles than any of his predecessors the genial governor recently jumped into the midst of an election battle that gave him his first severe setback since he took office His candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination this year was defeated Completing his four year term in November 1935 Laffoon is not eligible for re election

Hemorrhoids

Quick Relief From Painful Piles

If you think an operation is always the only way to escape the misery of torturing Piles it's because you haven't heard of Hem Roid the harmless internal medicine discovered by a western physician

After years of study Dr J S Leonhardt was convinced that the cause of Piles was internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel — the hemorrhoidal veins filled with stagnant blood—and that the right and safe way to get freedom from Pile agony was to remove the cause with an internal medicine Immediately the doctor set to work to find the remedy He succeeded and called his prescription HEM ROID

Pile sufferers everywhere are benefiting by Dr Leonhardt's discovery, so why doubt or delay longer when Hennes & Cooper and all druggists say No matter what kind of Piles you have one bottle of HEM ROID tablets must show you the safe clean way to get rid of your pile misery or money back'—Adv

FAT GIRLS GET THE GO-BY—SLIM GIRLS WIN MEN

Lose Fat The Easy Way — Without Starvation Diets, Harsh, Exhausting Salts or Weakening Irritating Habit Forming Laxatives

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing The reason, doctors say is often because a little gland is not working right

All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours many people take on ugly fat This fluid helps Nature to burn up excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good draft acts in a furnace

Now physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks —and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out this way

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same scientific method used by doctors. So don't waste your time or money striving to reduce with methods that are hard futile or depend on harmful health-risking salts and laxatives for their action Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking Don't wait—get Marmola today from druggists

Harding Gridders Ready for N. C. O. Inaugural Friday

MT. VERNON TO FACE IMPROVED ELEVEN ON STADIUM FIELD

Yellow Jackets One of Strongest Teams in Circuit; Rally Planned Tonight.

No semblance of over-confidence will be found on either team as Harding High school's football warriors pry off the lid of the N. C. O. conference season at the new stadium field tomorrow afternoon at 3:30.

Harding's gridmen realize that they are facing perhaps the strongest opposition to be found right now in North Central Ohio league football camps. The record of the Mt. Vernon Yellow Jackets is one of the most impressive in the circuit and their 13 to 12 loss last week to Newark High school detracted little from the season's showing.

Work Late

Mt. Vernon realizes now just how quickly and completely a few breaks can change the outcome of a football contest. The newcomers to the N. C. O. saw an early lead slip away and the one-point margin fall in favor of the enemy. They will be taking no chances against the Presidents, eagerly awaiting any breaks which may come their way.

The Presidents worked until 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the new stadium field and will taper off today. Although injuries are bothering Coach Carl Cramer's boys, the Harding mentor expects to put the heaviest and strongest team of the season on the feild Friday afternoon.

Dave Isaly and Dwight Carhart have been rounding into shape after suffering injuries and look like certain starters for the battle. A marked improvement has been noted in the Harding attack. Although the visitors still rule as favorites in tomorrow's game, Harding will display unusual strength.

Rally Planned

Several new faces may be seen in Harding's starting lineup. Bill Kaelber, injured recently, will probably stay on the sidelines, while several other regulars are fighting to hold their jobs.

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to watch Harding in the N. C. O. opener. Enthusiasm for tomorrow's game will reach a new high tonight with the giant rally and pep session to be held on downtown streets and the bonfire at the stadium. The program is being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Harding team will outweigh the visitors about five to eight pounds per man, according to just what players Coach Cramer will start on the line. Cramer can start a team which will be about 100 pounds heavier than the Yellow Jackets. Much of the Mt. Vernon poundage on the line is found in Jennings, 200-pound tackle.

A game between reserve teams of the two schools is scheduled to start at 2:15 o'clock. Harding High school will be dismissed at 3.

Probable starting lineups, with the weights of each player, are:

Mt. Vernon	Pos.	Harding
Ferrell, 160	L. E.	Ruby, 175
Smith, 160	L. T.	Carhart, 191
Stull, 140	L. G.	Sharrock, 140
Byrd, 150	C.	Foreman, 152
Thomas, 164	R. G.	Harper, 140

INJURIES BOTHER OHIO COLLEGE GRID PILOTS

Coaches Work Hard for Friday and Saturday Games.

By The Associated Press

Coach Harry Ockerman of Bowling Green is one of those coaches who like to look at the week-end's problems squarely.

Ockerman said yesterday that his team and Capital would play to a scoreless tie Saturday. Then he benched three letter men, added three sophomores to the line-up and sent his team through a hard scrimmage, with plenty of attention to blocking.

Coach Frank Wilton of Miami has to find two halfbacks to send into the Case game at Cleveland Saturday. Willie Eisenhut and Jack Llewellyn, first string backs, are on the sidelines with injuries.

The Wooster squad studied three new plays and then tried them out in a long scrimmage. Wooster also is without the services of two halfbacks. Mount Union, planning a fast reception for Westminster college Saturday, spent a great deal of time on passes today. Akron also concentrated on the aerial game and Coach Red Blair made it clear that the Otterbein game Friday night is not to be considered a "breather."

Ohio State practiced its deception yesterday and found it working pretty well. At least the freshmen were fooled in a short scrimmage.

Ohio university is preparing for the John Carroll game Oct. 11 and worked out against a freshman team equipped with Carroll plays yesterday. The second team made five touchdowns against the freshmen.

Muskingum faced the Denison game Friday night with the possibility that Mawhinney, guard, and Turner, halfback, may be out of the lineup because of injuries.

Cochrane Puts Stopping of Cubs Up To Bridges

BY EDWARD J. NEIL,
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT, Oct. 3—They had to see them to believe them, the Detroit Tigers of Mickey Cochrane, and now it's up to Tommy Bridges, one of the finest curve ball pitchers in the American League, to stop these impertinent Chicago Cubs if they're ever to be stopped short of baseball's world championship.

Detroit listened to all those stories of Charley Grimm's young upstarts, of their 21-game winning streak that sailed away the National League championship in the stretch, of the fire and dash, ease and nonchalance of youth. But you can't expect people who fought Dizzy Dean and his St. Louis rough necks through seven bitter games only a year ago to be worried by a lot of youngsters, even if the youngsters are good.

Bridges Must Produce

But now the Tigers know, and unless Bridges can do something today against 36-year-old Charley Root, the oldest man on the Chicago ball club, the 1935 World series will head for its three game session in Chicago Friday with the American League champions hanging on the ropes.

There's a terrific suspicion abroad that they're ripe for the long count right now, but no one will come out and say that definitely until Bridges, who beat Dizzy Dean last fall in St. Louis, has had his fling.

Tommy may not get around to it today, because the weatherman, blowing alternately hot and cold, dry and wet, for the past couple of weeks, has turned weepy again. The skies looked like the Tiger worshippers, about to break into tears at any moment. Showers through the night, and more forecast today, left some possibility of a postponement before the battle shifts to Chicago. If that happens the Cubs will stay right here until the second game has been played.

With one fall to their credit, thanks to the brilliant pitching of Long Lon Warneke, now the undisputed hurling champion of Arkansas, the Cub kids are on top and plan to stay there. They knew Warneke, pitching brilliantly, would shut out the Tigers as he did, 3 to 0, allowing but four hits, handcuffing the sluggers who tore the American pennant race apart.

The Chicagoans have their fingers crossed today, however.

There may be trepidition—if these young, high and hard riding baseball Cossacks know anything that approaches concern—in the hearts of the Cubs today, but the Tigers probably will never know it from anything they can see. There's another awesome portent for them on baseball's wall. In the five world series in which the Tigers have played, they have never won the first game. In four of them they did not win the last game, either.

Rowe Showed Well

They lost yesterday, before slightly less than 48,000 backers who rate their ball team higher than Boston does the Cabots and Lodges, and they lost with their own Arkansas hero, Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, pitching ball that might have been good enough against any but a Warneke at his best.

Rowe's control was perfect. He fanned eight. He made a bad throw for an error in between a first inning double by Augie Galan, a sacrifice and another single by Gabby Hartnett, the balance-wheel for this youthful crew. It meant two runs and the ball game although Frank Demaree slapped a fast ball far up into the left field seats for the third run just for good measure, in the ninth.

MT. GILEAD TO SEE TEAM PLAY FRIDAY

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, Oct. 3 — The first home game of the Mt Gilead High school eleven will be played Friday at 4 p. m. against Sunbury. Last year Mt Gilead defeated Sunbury, 6 to 0, and since 11 lettermen returned to the Sunbury school this year another close game is expected.

High school officials here have designated this "Morrow County High School Day" and all high pupils of the county, with the exception of Mt Gilead, will be admitted without charge to the game.

TICKET SCALPERS COOLING OFF FAST

Chicago and Detroit Speculators Drop Prices

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 3 — While the ticket speculators cooled off, Chicago Cubs fans today awaited the return of their idols with mounting enthusiasm.

With police, detectives and department of internal revenue men lurking about to discourage scalpers, ticket prices showed signs of coming down to earth. Where operators were holding out yesterday for as high as $75 for three game box seat strips, today's quotation was $50. Grandstand strips are offered at $30 as compared to the opening demand of $50.

The Cubs' 3 to 0 victory over the Tigers at Detroit yesterday, and Lon Warneke's brilliant pitching were discussed and re-discussed. After the game, wagering odds shifted from even money to 9 to 5 on the Cubs to win the series.

HUGE FIELD TO VIE IN OPEN GOLF EVENT

Leading Pros, More Than 300 Strong, To Play in Indianapolis Tourney.

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 3—A field including most of the world's greatest professionals began play here today in the 72-hole $5,000 Indianapolis Open golf tournament.

The huge entry list—more than 300—made it necessary to divide the field, one-half playing the first 18 holes today and the other players taking their turn tomorrow.

The 150 players with the lowest scores will enter the second round, and the sixty leaders at the half-way mark will play 36 holes to complete the tournament Sunday. The entire British and American Ryder Cup teams are among the contestants, along with the open champions of Britain, the United States and Canada. Only a few amateurs are entered.

The better known money players—Henry Picard, leading collector for the winter series of 1934-35; Sam Parks Jr., United States Open champion, Alfred Perry, British Open title holder, and Gene Kunes, Canadian Open champion—do not start until tomorrow.

Root Rowed His Way Back Into Pitching Glory

Cubs "Grandpappy" Got Fat Off During Trip from Australia.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Oct. 3—Charlie Root, the man nominated to crack the whip over the Tigers today in the second act of the World Series show, really rowed his way back to the pitching fame and another chance.

A year ago, the stout-heart of the Chicago Cubs was labeled a "washed up" pitcher. His bosses put him on the shelf and forgot about him after they had tried to trade him off in job lots on last winter's player mart. And then Charlie took a boat ride—to Australia.

"And I rowed all the way back and got the old soup bone working like it never did before, explained Charlie as he took a man's size bite at a plug of probably the strongest chewing tobacco that ever was tucked away in a 'he man's' pants.

"Tell you what I did. I had developed a roll of fat across my shoulders. It bothered my wind up. So, coming back from Australia, I rowed on a rowing machine all the way. I got it off, and think I got more steam than I ever had."

The Cubs, notably Manager Charlie Grimm, knew something had happened to their "Grandpappy" when the 36-year-old veteran reported at spring camp. He wound up and almost knocked Catcher Gabby Hartnett over on the first pitch, and he never stopped.

He developed a knuckle ball and delivered the Cubs 15 victories they never even counted on in their sensational drive to the pennant.

RESERVE DRIVES FOR WIN OVER CORNELL

Special Train To Carry Cleveland Fans East.

Special to The Star

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 3—"On to Cornell" is the cry of Western Reserve football fans this week. The Cleveland Red Cats clash with the Big Red team at Ithaca Saturday, and a special train load of supporters will travel from here to see the game.

Western Reserve started off in impressive style against Hillsdale College of Michigan and has high hopes of giving Cornell a real battle. The last meeting of the teams was in 1929, Cornell winning 28 to 0. In 1921 Gil Dobie's steam roller crushed Reserve by a record score of 110 to 0. Three other games have been played between the two teams, the first being in 1895, when Cornell won 12 to 4. In 1896 Cornell won 48 to 0, and in 1903, 41 to 0.

Reserve will start the same line-up against Cornell as Coach Edwards used in the first half of the game with Hillsdale.

STOCKS GAIN DESPITE WAR

Market Braces Itself After Yesterday's Downturn When News of Hostilities Broke.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK Oct 3—The stock market braced itself today although the African war situation was still a restraining influence in the revival of bullish sentiment.

Many of the weaker issues of the preceding session found support after a mixed opening in which the ticker tape fell slightly behind floor transactions Trading slowed appreciably however on the stiffening of prices.

Wheat backed up under profit taking and cotton was not inclined to continue its forward push Export copper sold at 8.82½ cents a pound a new top since July 1933 Bonds came back with stocks Foreign exchanges eased in terms of the dollar Securities in London and Paris were heavy

Shares registering advances of fractions to around a point included U S Steel Bethlehem Consolidated Gas Westinghouse Western Union General Motors Auburn American Can Allied Chemical Case Schenley Owens Illinois Greyhound Corp Sears Roebuck Montgomery Ward Johns-Manville N Y Central Union Pacific Great Northern and American Smelting A loss of 3 points was suffered by International Business Machines and Eastman Kodak and Air Reduction yielded a point each

The early recovery was in line with expectations voiced by most market analysts who felt that yesterday's selling probably was overdone and that short covering and some reinvestment demand would necessarily help to stem the downward trend

At the same time the majority of commentators were none too bullish many feeling that the clashing of Italian and Ethiopian armaments is bound to spread and that a general conflagration may be touched off at any moment

Brokers during the early morning sifted through the largest stack of war news that has confronted them in a fortnight and also watched domestic economic developments

Two new peaks were recorded overnight. The United States treasury announced the largest deficit in peacetime history for the first quarter of the current fiscal year and the Bankers Trust Company of New York entered the ranks of billion dollar banks when deposits and resources crossed the magic lines

Preliminary estimates on car loadings for last week indicate there will be less than 600 000 freight cars in the total when official figures are compiled The chief reason observers declared was the bituminous coal strike that tied up the industry most of that week

WORKMEN NOW PAINTING 30-DEGREE ANGLE LANES

New City Parking Ordinance Will Become Effective Next Wednesday; Three Men on Job

With the new city ordinance providing for 30-degree angle parking in the business district becoming law next Wednesday service department workers started yesterday to paint the yellow parking lanes on South Main street at the required angle

Only three men are engaged in the task of marking all street area affected by the ordinance and the job will not be completed in less than 30 days, Service Director C. K. Mercer said. Because of a limited appropriation by city council, the director said he could not afford to put more than three men on the job two of whom do the painting while the other keeps automobiles out of the area in which the men are working

Mercer said a part of the uptown section would be marked by the time the ordinance takes effect and that workers are starting early in the morning so they will not be greatly handicapped by traffic

Long Controversy

The ordinance substituting 30-degree parking for the present 45-degree angle was passed unanimously by city council at a meeting Sept 9 after a summer long controversy with Marion business men and the state highway department over the city's traffic congestion problem

Council first passed the ordinance which was proposed by Councilman F R. McDaniel at a meeting late in August after a spirited discussion with a group of business men who advocated its immediate passage The measure was given three readings that night and carried by the slightest of margins one vote which was cast by Council President T J Frericks to break a four to four tie The vote on the motion to suspend the rules to give it three readings also was tied

On Aug 31 following its passage City Solicitor Theodore R. Ochs declared the passage of the ordinance illegal because a three fourths vote of council members, required when the rules are suspended to give an ordinance three readings in a single meeting night was lacking

The ordinance provides for 30-degree parking on both sides of Center street from Baker street to the Pennsylvania railroad and on both sides of Main street from George street to Columbia street

Goes Unsigned

The ordinance becomes law without the signature of Mayor C A Bolin who declared the new parking system will not relieve traffic congestion and will not satisfy the state highway department. Unless Marion solves its traffic problem within the immediate future the highway department will take steps to reroute highways 23 4 and 95 around the city officials and council members were told last summer by F W Turner division engineer for the highway department

Mr Mercer said today he did not believe the highway department would conduct a survey in Marion to determine whether the problem here is solved by 30-degree angle parking but predicted that the department's next move would be to ignore the local situation or go ahead and reroute the highways running through the city as they threatened to do

Both Mayor Bolin and Director Mercer have voiced their opposition to 30-degree parking since Councilman McDaniel first proposed it They had previously proposed to the highway department that the location of highways 23 4 and 95 in the city be changed to run over other streets thus relieving the traffic congestion on Main street over which the three highways now run and to which the department objects
